GC officers protest lack of pay hikes

The Granite City police union is considering filing arbitration procedures over deadlocked contract talks that promise no pay raises again this year.

Detective Sgt. Kerry Pomeroy, president of Local 1347, said he is dismayed over a letter he received Friday from the city's negotiating committee stating only no-cost items will be negotiated.

This morning, Police Chief Ronald Veizer said he knows of no connection between the deadlocked and approximately 131 traffic tickets, most for speeding, issued between Friday and early today in the city. A rough estimate of the number of tickets normally issued is 10 each day.

Veizer did not consider the number of weekend tickets significant. He said his department experienced a quiet weekend that would have allowed time to investigate speeding complaints received from residents.

Sixth Ward Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Moad, negotiations committee chairman, said the no-raise letter was sent to the union following a closed ad hoc meeting, where council members opposed pay raises or other cost-related benefits.

The last pay raise the police department received was a one percent raise two years ago, Pomeroy said. No pay raise was offered any city employee last year.

Both the city and police union representatives of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) are continuing to meet, but Pomeroy believes negotiations have reached a standstill. The police officer takes that position, since the city is not negotiating items deemed "critical" by the union members. A pay increase is chief among those matters.

The union president said police members were asked to "bite the bullet" last year to assist the city as it experienced fiscal problems. According to Pomeroy, the police union was guaranteed a pay raise this year. On that basis, the union did not press the salary issue last year.

Moad, who was not on the previous year's negotiating committee, said he is following exactly the no-raise wishes of the council, including barring any additional money for such items as clothing allowances, Moad said. He hopes to get more active feedback from the aldermen, now that the negotiation demands are becoming more of a public issue.

SCENE OF FATALITY on the McCambridge Avenue viaduct on Route 203 at 12:55 p.m. Friday, where the northbound auto of Kenneth Hall, 21, East St. Louis, apparently crossed the center line and struck a Prairie Farms Dairy tractor-trailer head-on in the southbound lanes. Hall was killed in the accident.

McCambridge viaduct crash kills man

Kenneth A. Hall, 21, of East St. Louis, was killed at 12:55 p.m. Friday, Oct. 21, 1983, when his auto crashed head-on into a tractor-trailer truck near the McCambridge Viaduct on Route 203, south of Madison and just north of the Madison County line. He is not believed related to Illinois Senator Kenneth Hall.

According to the Illinois State Police, Mr. Hall's vehicle was traveling north on Route 203 when it apparently went out of control and crossed the center line, striking the tractor-trailer head-on in the southbound lanes of the highway.

Mr. Hall was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell, who said rescuers worked more than 40 minutes to extricate the driver from the wreckage.

Sam E. Gunning of Carlinville, driver of the Prairie Farms Dairy tractor-trailer, was slightly injured, but was not hospitalized, according to state troopers. The vehicle is owned by Nelson Gwillim.

Mr. Hall initially was transported to a Granite City mortuary and then taken to Officer Funeral Home, 214 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis (telephone 874-4241) where funeral arrangements are being completed.

Born in St. Louis, Mr. Hall was a member of Rising Star Baptist Church. He was preceded in death by his father, William B. Hall.

Among the survivors are his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Hall; three brothers, Aaron, Alton and Wilbert Hall, and three sisters, Mrs. Brenda Hollis, Mrs. Rhonda Woodruff and Miss Tina Hall. All reside in East St. Louis.

Heritage status of Mounds is celebrated

By ED GURNEY
Placement of the Cahokia Mounds Historic Site on the World Heritage list should make it easier to acquire funding for the famous archaeological area west of Collinsville, according to David Kenney, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Kenney was among those at the mounds Friday when a plaque was presented marking the site's inclusion on the world list.

The designation will help when asking members of the General Assembly for money, he said. "This makes them realize this is truly a site of world stature," he said.

He also hopes it will help attract private donations. "This is ripe for some corporate or private benefactor to put in $5 or $10 million to develop the site," Kenney said.

Private money has played a part in the re-creation of other historic sites in the United States, he said.

The funding picture may already be brightening.

Kenney said he hopes that $700,000 appropriated by the legislature several years ago for land acquisition will be "unfrozen" in about two weeks. It will enable the purchase of about 20 more homes in the Ramey addition, which is south of Monk's Mound, he said.

Several homes were purchased a few years ago, but the appropriation was frozen because of the state's fiscal difficulties, Kenney said. Lt. Gov. George Ryan, who was present Friday to accept the plaque on behalf of the state, was instrumental in helping to get the funds released, Kenney said.

It is hoped next year another $500,000 can be appropriated for additional land acquisition. About $2.1 million will be needed to enlarge the historic site from the present 1,200 acres to the goal of 2,400 acres, Kenney said.

He said he still "dreams" of rerouting Collinsville Road around the site and constructing a new museum and interpretive center. Both have been included in long-range plans.

Kenney said the museum and interpretive center would cost about $1.5 million. He described the existing museum as "almost completely worn out."

The World Heritage list designation should attract more people to the mounds, Kenney said. "It's not too much to expect that millions of people annually will visit our site. That is our aim."

Robert LaSurs, vice-president of the board of the Cahokia Mounds Museum Society, said the designation is important because of the prestige of that list. He hopes it will stimulate public interest.

Concerning completion of plans for the site, he said, "I think this is a big step in the right direction."

The mounds site was voted to the list last December in Paris by the World Heritage Committee, an arm of the United Nations' International Convention for Protection of the World Cultural and Natural Heritage.

It is the 10th U.S. property to be placed on the list.

U.S. response to Beirut tragedy is studied by O'Neill

By KARL MONROE
U.S. House Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill told 800 Madison County Democrats Sunday night that, in the wake of the tragic loss of at least 161 Marines' lives in Lebanon, he has appointed a special committee to study the appropriate U.S. response.

One member of the committee is Melvin Price, (D-East St. Louis), the Congressman from this district who is the chairman of the Armed Services Committee.

The other two are Clem Zabloski, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee and Joe Adabo, chairman of the Military Affairs subcommittee of the Appropriations committee.

The death toll this morning from the terrorist bombing at the Marine barracks in Beirut early Sunday has mounted to 161. The death toll among French forces quartered about a mile away stands at 59.

whether they would stay six months or 18 months.

As a result of the decision to let them stay the longer period, he said the U.S. tried for a three-part improvement in conditions there.

He said the U.S. succeeded in obtaining a cease-fire, in getting the Lebanese president to agree to appoint a new cabinet with more groups represented, and in convincing the Israelis to agree to pull out.

Unfortunately, the U.S. has failed to get the Syrians to withdraw also. O'Neill said the Syrians, with Soviet backing and arms, are trying to partition Lebanon or take it over. If they do, he told the audience, the next step is a take-over of Jordan, that might mean they would move to control the oil of the Middle East.

The dinner Sunday night drew party notables, but only O'Neill, Price, Illinois House Speaker Michael Madigan and State Senator Sam Vadala were allowed time to speak.

The dinner was held at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville because the Democrats decided not to cross in-

Seek volunteers to prepare tax returns

Ira S. Loeb, District Director, Internal Revenue Service, said today that volunteers are needed to help others with their tax returns as part of the IRS sponsored VITA (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance) program.

In the VITA Program, volunteers are recruited to provide free assistance to taxpayers who cannot afford professional tax help. Loeb said that VITA volunteers (frequently college students, or students, or members of professional business organizations) receive a special training course in basic income tax return preparation.

VITA instructors and training materials are provided free by the IRS. Training is conducted at a location convenient to volunteers and instructors, generally in December through January each year.

VITA volunteers assist taxpayers, often low income, elderly, handicapped or non-English speaking individuals who need explanations of the special credits and deductions for which they may qualify.

VITA programs can be sponsored by local civic or fraternal organizations, educational institutions, churches and social groups. For the convenience of taxpayers who cannot travel to an IRS office, most VITA volunteers provide assistance at neighborhood locations such as schools, churches and libraries.

Loeb asked persons or organizations interested in the VITA Program to contact the Taxpayer Education Coordinator at 1-217-492-4288.

Bonds issued for new Arch parking garage

The Bi-State Development Agency Board of Commissioners has approved a resolution authorizing the issuance and sale of $8.4 million in tax-free Arch Parking Garage Revenue Bonds to construct a new Arch parking facility. John D. Boeth, Bi-State's General Counsel, said that "today's action by the board of commissioners culminated several years of work with the city of St. Louis and the National Park Service. This project was originally planned in 1956 as part of the overall development of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial."

The 1,208 parking space garage will be built in three levels on the 4.7 acre site of the present 333 space parking lot at the north leg of the Gateway Arch. Two levels will be beneath the ground while the top will be level with the contour of the Arch grounds. It will be designed to complement the Eads Bridge and the Gateway Arch. To make room for the facility, Washington Avenue will be moved slightly north, abutting the Eads Bridge, allowing for two-way traffic flow into and out of LaCade's Landing. The garage is intended to accommodate visitors to the Gateway Arch and other facilities and attractions located on the St. Louis riverfront.

Under an operating agreement between the Bi-State Development Agency and the city of St. Louis, the city will be responsible for the operation and maintenance of the garage. A professional parking operator under contract with the city, will manage the garage, with the concurrence of Bi State.

Community role

funds to communities and enabling them to expand local criminal justice sanctions and punishment. Local agencies would administer work release, imprisonment or community service to non-violent, less-dangerous offenders.

2. Statewide probation — The need to reduce fragmentation and to make probation a meaningful and safe community sanction is still obvious and calls for decisive action, the group said. This can only be accomplished "when Illinois unifies its probation system and provides it with the teeth and leadership to do the job."

3. Standards of sentencing and guidelines for the judiciary — Criminal sentencing should be based upon society's considered judgment of what the just punishment is for a particular crime, given the severity of the offense and the criminal background of the offender, it is contended. Society does not punish individuals for what they might do in the future, but for what they have done in the past, the task force concludes.

Nonetheless, by punishing for past offenses, society is said to benefit by preventing a certain amount of future crime.

4. Work camp and work release expansion, public service, and victim restitution programs — The task force recommends immediate expansion of community placements for the Illinois Department of Corrections.

Such expansions would include necessary resources and authority for the Illinois Department of Corrections to increase the population and percentage of inmates in community centers (work camp or work release facilities).

Community placements could occur as "front-end" (new admissions) and "back-end" (opening releases), and would include restitution and victim compensation programs associated with work release or public service assignments.

5. Prison capacity expansion — The task force recommends that additional prison capacity be provided. As Illinois proceeds with prison construction, the most cost-effective methods would be urged, combined with pursuit of established system needs, including consideration of private-sector financing and modular prison construction design.

"While the Illinois Department of Corrections should expand its capacity as rapidly as possible to house adult felons, this should not be done in a way detrimental to the department's juvenile program — either by reducing necessary beds available for juveniles or by limiting the programming options for different classifications of juvenile offenders," the group asserted.

"We also recommend changes in the residential burglary statute, emphasis and attention on employment opportunities for ex-offenders, and an expanded role for the Criminal Sentencing Commission."

Earlier this year, the panel adopted short-term recommendations dealing with double-celling and a Prisoner Review Board procedure to consider return to the community of inmates within 90 days of the completion of their sentence when prison custody is exceeded by five percent (approximately 700 inmates).

The short-term recommendations include a "sunset" provision terminating Jan. 1, 1985.

Bensinger, a former chief of the Illinois prison system and the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, was joined at a Chicago press conference by Michael Mahoney, executive director of the John Howard Association, and Joyce O'Keefe, Chairman of the Illinois League of Women Voters Criminal Justice Committee, she headed two task force subcommittees.

The 26-member panel included four legislators, representatives of police, sheriffs, state's attorneys, public defenders, bar associations, state and county officials, citizen organizations, such as the Chicago Crime Commission, Illinois League of Women Voters and John Howard Association, the union representing correctional officers, and the directors of Corrections, Law Enforcement, and the Illinois Bureau of the Budget.

"These recommendations build no magic wand," Bensinger said. "The implementation will not be easy."

"We recommend reversing county control of probation, broadening the base, providing a certainty of punishment and assigning inmates to work camp and public service responsibility. The task force will take time, attention and money, and some give-and-take in the legislature."

Today has overcrowded prisons and little confidence in probation or prison sentences.

"We have to do a better job of making the punishment fit the crime — protecting the public and helping the victim while maintaining safe and constitutional prisons. These recommendations, if implemented, will go a long way toward that end."

cultural and national heritage, Chokoma Mounds State Historic Site has been designated a World Heritage Site and joins a select list of protected areas around the world whose outstanding natural and cultural resources form the common inheritance of all mankind."

"Illinois is the only state in the nation that has a World Heritage Site," said Simon, who was there, but did not speak. His Senatorial rival, Illinois Senate President Phil Rock of Oak Park, also made the long trip to be introduced, but was not given the podium.

Other luminaries that came to be seen were State Treasurer Jim Donnewald, Congressman Dick Durbin and State Comptroller Roland Burris.

Program puts treat GC senior citizens back into holiday

Eleven area businesses, KSOK-TV, KXOK Radio and the Granite City Senior Center are cooperating on "The Safe Halloween-Treat Giving Party," a project designed to put the treat back into an increasingly dangerous holiday.

"The Safe Halloween" enables trick-or-treaters to collect treats that are tamperproof. Books of coupons, redeemable for more than $10 worth of free items at local stores, restaurants and amusement places, will be for sale at 171 locations in the greater St. Louis area until Oct. 31. One more of the coupons can be given to the trick-or-treaters who can turn them in for treats with no purchase required. The books of coupons cost $1, with all proceeds going to Easter Seal.

Businesses selling coupon books in the Metro-East area, and the item each will be giving away are: Jack-In-the-Box restaurants, an order of nachos; Rax Restaurants, a roast beef sandwich; Wehrenberg Theatres (Alton Cine), one child's admission; Good Times Skating Centers, one admission; Taco Bell Restaurants, an order of chicken crisp and a small Pepsi; and Kroger Stores, a large apple. Community Federal Savings and Loan also will be selling the coupon booklets at 756 Central Ave., Alton.

Other businesses taking part in the promotion are The Great American Cook Co., Dunkin' Donuts, Captain D's Seafood Restaurants and Mavros Candy Co.

Besides giving children a safer way to enjoy the holiday, "The Safe Halloween" gives individuals an opportunity to give neighborhood children a good treat at a price of only 10 cents a coupon.

In the Metro-East area, six mayors have given their official endorsement to the "Safe Halloween," including Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

Funding MEG units a good choice

A cheer for the Illinois Senate and House of Representatives for overriding Governor James Thompson's vetoes which would have put nine area Metropolitan Enforcement Groups out of business, ending effective undercover drug enforcement in the Quad-City area.

We were somewhat shocked when "Big" Jim "Mr. Law Enforcement" Thompson vetoed funding appropriations for MEG units. The units, including the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI), were responsible for more than 1,300 drug arrests in 1982 and had a conviction rate of about 85 percent and closer to 100 percent for MEGSI.

We have expressed our strong support for MEGSI in the past. Obviously, the Illinois Senate agrees, voting 56-1 to restore state funding for MEGs. The House seems likely to follow the Senate's lead. It was the House which last week overrode amendatory veto language from the governor which would have halted the distribution of $1.5 million from the state's last fiscal year's budget until there is sufficient money from the drug traffic fund to pay it. The drug traffic fund is supplied by the sale of assets seized from convicted narcotics dealers, but has less than $10,000 in it, thus far.

The vetoes would have brought MEGSI and all MEG units to a screeching halt, which would have given drug dealers nearly unchecked powers to bring drug traffic to full tilt. Drug dealers are not afraid of the local police. They know most of the officers and would recognize them, even in plain clothes.

MEGSI works differently. It brings in agents from outside of this area to work here. They mingle with drug users and gain the confidence of drug dealers, until they can actually purchase drugs. Then, when evidence has been garnered on a sufficient number of drug dealers, MEGSI works with area police departments in a "sweep" of arrests of those who sold drugs to the undercover agents.

Drug dealers will not sell to people they do not know. MEGSI keeps drug sales from being common and open. We are not saying that MEGSI has stopped drug sales, only slowed it, put a number of dealers in jail and kept the rest looking over their shoulders all the time.

We urge the House to support the veto override, giving about $130,000 to MEGSI of the $1,338,500 appropriated for all nine area MEGs.

Drug abuse is too big a problem to ignore.

GC police deserving of a raise

We are uncertain whether the rapid pace of issuing traffic tickets by the Granite City police during the weekend was related to their pay dispute with the city council, but sympathize with the police in the matter.

Nearly 150 traffic tickets, most to speeding, have been issued by the police since Friday, about six or seven times the normal number for a weekend.

The police are not saying why and Chief of Police Ronald Zeiser says it was a quiet weekend and was a good time for a crackdown. We agree that driving patterns of many motorists could use some improving.

Whatever the motive, the police are attracting attention at a time when the city council is denying them another pay raise. The last raise they received was one percent two years ago. We cannot blame them for trying to attract attention, if that is what they are trying to do.

At least a "speedup" of traffic enforcement is far superior to a "slowdown," "blue flu" or a strike.

From our experiences, we believe the Granite City police are hard working, diligent and the department among the best police units anywhere in the state. The officers, who put their lives on the line each and every day, deserve to make a decent living. The same goes for the Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach police.

Granite City union officials contend the policemen were promised last year that they would receive a raise this year, if they would accept a wage freeze last year. They did.

The city is still in a financial bind, but with new income from the sales tax and from other sources, we believe the police deserve some fair consideration. If we can afford to restore 13 miles of streets this week, certainly some funds can be found for the city to negotiate in good faith with the police officers, who already have "bit the bullet" for the last two years.

Airbags delayed for pointless new studies

To the Editor:

I have issued the following statement on the Department of Transportation's rulemaking for passive restraints in passenger automobiles.

The Administration's strategy must have been devised by Coach Dean Smith of the University of North Carolina, the coach whose four-corner offense could keep the basketball in play forever.

The ball passes endlessly from player to player, but nothing ever happens. It's the ultimate stall, the deep freeze.

Instead of taking action to save the lives of at least 8,500 men, women and children every year, the Administration has chosen to study auto safety issues that have been studied for 14 years. The rulemaking announced Oct. 18 is a tragic and lethal stall.

The case for airbags is overwhelming. They have been tried in 10,000 cars. By every estimate, they will save at least 8,500 lives a year.

There is no justification for delay. It's time to act. The only issue that should be studied is the time the auto industry needs to begin equipping cars with airbags.

At most, the entire proceeding should take 60 days. Instead, the department will spend months in a tragically pointless study of settled issues.

I think highly of Secretary Elizabeth Dole, but I've given up on this Administration's approach to highway safety.

This rulemaking is going nowhere. When it's time to decide, passive restraints will be "deep-sixed" by the White House, regardless of what Secretary Dole might want.

I certainly will continue to press for legislation mandating a variety of design improvements to create safer automobiles, including the use of airbags.

Says U.S. House 'shortsighted' on abortion

To the Editor:

On Sept. 23, the United States House of Representatives passed a new version of the "Hyde Amendment" which would prohibit the use of federal Medicaid funds for abortions, even if the pregnant woman's life is endangered. The previous version of the amendment, which would offer our society "new taxpayers" (by forcing birth), who would, with time, help lower the federal deficit.

By proposing such an alteration to the Hyde Amendment, Congress has narrowed its scope on the abortion issue. It seems that the majority vote in Congress was focused upon their personal opinion of the morality of abortion. By rewording the amendment, Congress has committed itself to the emotional and philosophical viewpoint of "abortion is immoral, even at the cost of a woman's life." (I am taking this stance assuming that Congress is not so blatant as to propose a constitutional amendment ending the lives of all financially deprived women facing an abortion or death situation.)

Is it the place of our government to judge the rightness or wrongness of an issue as intimate to a family as abortion? Congress will not suffer the loss of the Woman or the loss of the fetus, but perhaps the loss of future taxpayers? It is a loss that only the family would suffer and a choice that only the family could make based on its moral opinion of abortion.

I am wondering if it is the duty of our government to make decisions for lower income families, by providing them with no other alternative. For Congressman Dannemeyer to support the Hyde Amendment by suggesting the future "new taxpayers" his Congress is reasonable enough to see through the new Hyde Amendment and attempt to offer a new proposal which doesn't limit the woman dependant on Medicaid to her deathbed.

Most die without leaving a will

Law and you

By Rick Reed
Attorney at Law

A majority of Americans die without having made a will. One reason for this is probably because most people do not like to think about death and one-half goes to his children. If he has no children, all the property passes to the spouse.

Another misconception is that a person can make a will and totally disinherit his spouse. In fact, it is impossible to keep the spouse from inheriting a certain amount of property. Even if a person makes a will and specifically indicates that the spouse receives nothing, Illinois law allows the spouse in this situation to claim at least one-third of the estate.

There is also a common belief that a person making a will must leave at least $1 to his children. Often people come to the office indicating that they want their will to specifically indicate that certain of their children receive only $1. In fact, if they do not mention certain children at all in the will, these children will receive nothing. There is no duty under Illinois law to leave children a specified amount of property.

There is also a common fallacy that when a person is divorced in Illinois, he automatically needs a new will. This is not necessarily true. A divorce in Illinois revokes any legacy to the former spouse in a will which was made prior to the dissolution of marriage. As a practical matter, however, a person should probably have his will reviewed by an attorney, when he is divorced, when he moves to another state, or when there is a death of someone named in the will.

Robert Fuhrman, Madison
"I don't believe they belong there. They're not doing any good there. They're there as peace keepers, it doesn't seem like their doing any good."

Sandy Mueller, Granite City
"Yes, I think they should be there. If we don't stop the influence of Communism over there it'll be over here in this country next."

Teresa Reynolds, Granite City
"The whole thing seems pretty weird to me. My brother was a Marine and I know I wouldn't want him over there. I wouldn't want him to get killed. I'm not sure what good they're doing over there, but as long as they're there maybe they should stay and fight for peace."

John Miller, Granite City
"I think we have an obligation as a peace keeping force. I think it's up to us to show the civilized world that peace is possible over there. They (the Marines) should stay there. They have a purpose. Now is not the time to pull out (of Lebanon), that's exactly what they (those responsible for the bombing) want."

New management urged for school system

To the Editor:

As a former teacher of Granite City District 9, I am very concerned about what is happening — or, should I say, what has happened in this district.

It really bothers me to see such a "turn-around" take place in such a short period of time.

I'm sorry to see such a fine school system in such bad shape.

What has caused this problem is hard to say. I strongly feel that some new management is in store.

There are people running for the school board this time with some fresh new ideas and are willing to put a lot of effort into turning this nightmare around.

I personally feel a whole new board should be elected. One person alone will not change things.

I'm backing Alan Crider

for school board member. Alan is a dedicated and conscientious taxpayer and citizen of this community who wants a change in our district's structure.

I encourage all my friends to vote for him.

Scaring starlings does not end the problem

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to the transfer of birds from one choice part of the city to a few blocks away.

Granite City is using noisemakers to scare starlings from roosting places.

I cannot believe that anyone could honestly think ended this is the solution to the problem.

My car was parked in the 2800 block of Washington Avenue, Thursday evening for less than two hours. It was totally covered, windows included, with bird droppings.

Whoever is responsible for the noisemaking that drives the birds there should have their family living in that area.

The children can't play in their fenced in backyard because the birds have covered their lawns with their filth.

Would you do the residents of this area the same courtesy and send the birds back?

Federal tax increase wouldn't solve deficit

To the Editor:

If someone is cheated by a con man, he or she deserves and receives our sympathy. However, if one year later, the same person falls prey to the same film-film artist — using the same scam — the victim is a fool.

Well, at present, the administration and the conservative members of Congress might still deserve our understanding.

One year ago they were tricked into supporting the Tax Equity and Fiscal Reform Act or TEFRA, a tax hike package totaling $99 billion in new and higher taxes over a three-year period or $23 billion over a five-year span.

How did an administration committed to supply-side economics, which calls for lower tax rates to stimulate economic activity and create new jobs, get tricked into what is perhaps the largest tax increase in our nation's history? Here's how the deception worked.

The big government politicians who spent the last two decades creating the economic mess that the Reagan administration inherited — remember 21.5 percent interest rates and double-digit inflation? — proclaimed their newfound concern about deficit spending and offered the following deal: We will cut spending $3 for every $1 of tax increase in TEFRA.

That worked out to a three-year reduction in federal spending of $280 billion in exchange for the three-year tax hike of $99 billion. Congress even went so far as to pass a budget resolution committing itself to will cut spending in return.

No fooling. For real.

Everything appeared to be on the up and up, but then came the sting.

The tax-and-spend majority in the House and Senate ended up with $1.14 of spending increase for every dollar of tax increase.

What was billed as three dollars of spending cuts in the future, they will be playing with the taxpayers' money, not their own.

It is up to American taxpayers to say no to this constant drumbeat for higher taxes.

Cruel experience has shown us that higher taxes do not reduce deficits, but rather give politicians the green light for higher spending.

We should not be fooled again.

OPPOSES NUCLEAR WASTE DUMPING

For those of us who live in rural areas, Illinois' membership in the Midwest Nuclear Waste Compact poses a serious threat to our health and safety. This compact, which would dispose of radioactive wastes by shallow-land burial, could create another — or several additional — Sheffields here, as Illinois is likely to be chosen as "host" state.

These wastes, called "low-level," actually are a highly toxic mix. They include plutonium and uranium isotopes which remain toxic for several thousand years.

It is time to contact our state senators and urge them to vote against SB 1081.

K of C annual Tootsie Roll drive this weekend

Citizens in Illinois already have been alerted to the Knights of Columbus annual fund-raising effort for the mentally retarded for the upcoming weekend of Oct. 28-29 through news articles and community posters.

Even the civic leaders around the state—mayors, town presidents, and city managers—are supporting the K of C Candy Days by issuing proclamations declaring the last weekend of October a program in which the people in Illinois should take part.

Chicago's Harold Washington declared the weekend Knights of Columbus Days for the Retarded in the proclamation he recently signed while Governor James R. Thompson signed a proclamation declaring that the MR two-day drive should have the full support of the state's citizenry.

Radio and television spots featuring TV star Bob Newhart will be heard and seen throughout Illinois urging people to participate and support the Knights' two-day drive for the mentally disabled.

The Candy Days drive for the mentally handicapped meets all the conditions set down by the Illinois Solicitations Act that permits qualified workers of organizations sanctioned by the Attorney General's office to solicit funds on state highways running through towns that approve fund-raising collections at intersections.

All volunteers soliciting contributions during the two-day MR drive are covered by insurance. In line with the Solicitations Act, volunteers under the age of 17 are not permitted to collect donations on state highways or at intersections.

Since the Illinois Knights began their drive to help the mentally disabled in 1970, in excess of $8.48 million has been collected, most of it during the two-day candy-selling drive each fall.

Ten percent of the gross receipts is set aside in a state fund for use in major projects to help the mentally handicapped. The balance of the collections, less the cost of the candy and minimal promotional expenses, are returned to the community workshops, schools, and special organizations caring for the retarded youngsters.

Q: As newlyweds, we want to begin a reasonable budget immediately, and also establish a fund for emergencies. We've heard that six-months after-tax income is a good figure. Is this amount necessary if we have life and health insurance, and should we count cash advances available through our credit cards?

A: Most counselors agree that an emergency reserve fund equal to three months after-tax income is adequate in most cases. That should be construed as a minimum amount, however. This should be enough to see you through a temporary loss of income—the reason for such a fund. Since this is the purpose of the fund, life and health insurance should not be counted toward the amount goal. However, any liquid asset should be counted. These would include plans which allow withdrawals like money market accounts and individual or company savings plans. Lines of credit, no matter what form they are in, should generally not be counted. The question you should ask is: Can you pay the money back right away, if not don't include it.

Prior to that, he was a union plumber for five years after completing his Plumbers Local 360 apprenticeship in 1970.

He is Ainal Temple captain of the guard in the Divan line of officers.

The local businessman has served on the Granite City Masonic Temple Board of Directors since 1979. He is a member of the Advisory Board of the James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and holds the Degree of Honor from the DeMolay Supreme Council.

He is a charter member of George Washington High Twelve International, which has been a longtime member of the Directors Staff of Ainal Temple and the house committee of the temple.

He is a member of Royal Order of Jesters Court 86, an honorary member of Job's Daughters Bethel 43 and a member of the Scottish Rite Bodies, Valley of Southern Illinois, presently serving as deputy master of St. Clair Lodge.

Hogan is a member of the board of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and an associate member of the Southern Illinois Business Association.

He enlisted in the U.S. Army in 1966 and served until 1969, with a one-year tour of duty in Vietnam.

His memberships include the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Cahokia Mount Zion Scout Council, Granite City Rotary, National Federation of Independent Business, Illinois Association of Plumber-Heating and Cooling Contractors, Granite City Center Booster Club and Granite City High School Booster Club.

Hogan is seeking election to the Board of Education to work with other board members in serving the community and providing a continued excellent curriculum for students.

"I pledge to the residents that I will devote the necessary time and effort to keep the image of District Nine where it should be. I will work with other members toward achieving a budget balance and in reducing the existing deficit."

"I will be open-minded and considerate in all matters that come before the board. I will keep children's education and welfare and taxpayers' concerns foremost in mind during decisions in all areas."

"I believe that if the board, all employees and the entire community of parents work together, District Nine will again be able to operate with a balanced budget and be one of the leading school districts in the state."

FORGERY ALLEGED
Sought by St. Charles County, Mo., Theresa Gail Poindexter, 25, of 2810 W. 20th St. was booked by Granite City police at 4 p.m. Thursday on a forgery warrant. She was freed after $502 bail pending extradition.

DEWEY MELTON

E. Dewey Melton, 44, of 2309 Westmoreland Drive is seeking re-election to the Granite City School Board for a four-year term Nov. 8.

Melton is currently serving on the board after winning a two-year elective term in 1981.

He also served an elective term on the board from April 1977 to April 1980, later being appointed to a board position on June 9, 1981.

Born in Stewart County, Tenn., he is a 34-year resident of Granite City. A senior systems engineer, he is serving as a large systems specialist for IBM of St. Louis at the St. Louis Postal Data Center.

He has been with IBM for the past 19 years, and taught for three years in the IBM St. Louis Education Center as a data processing instructor. He was a scientific computer programmer at McDonnell Automation in 1963-64.

Melton and his wife, Karen, are the parents of Andy and Ed, Granite City High School students. Laurie, a Grigsby Junior High student, and Kristi, a Granite City High School senior, are also his children.

Melton is a member of the Second Baptist Church and has served as a Sunday school teacher for high school juniors and seniors and currently for young adults.

He attended Granite City schools from the fifth grade through high school, graduating in 1957. He received a bachelor of arts degree in mathematics from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

His service on school board committees has included three years on the policy committee, two years on the Title I (now Chapter 1) advisory board, and one year on the Quad-City (Madison County, Regis I) special education board.

He is present services on the Citizens Advisory Committee, the Southwest Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards, and the Granite City Coalition for Public Education, of which he is past chairman.

Melton comments, "I seek to continue on the Board of Education because I want to assure that the children of this district, including four of my own, have the best education that our community can provide."

"I believe our school system continues to be an excellent one despite the changes that economic conditions have forced us to make. This is a tribute to our teachers, administrators and support staff. Most programs are intact, and the curriculum continues to be enhanced."

Melton adds, "I believe my work experience as a business systems analyst, my high regard for the teaching profession, and my care and love for the children of our community qualify me to continue to serve the interests of our community fairly."

"I have no axe to grind. I represent no special interest group."

"I will continue to treat the issues that the board must face in reasonable and rational ways, striving to protect and promote the general educational welfare of this community."

In past campaigns, he has stressed that "school board members are charged with the responsibility of providing for the secular education of our youth. I believe that this is truly the most important governmental service provided in this community."

"If our children are to make the most of their God-given abilities, we must provide quality programs and teachers for them."

"At the same time, the requirements for these programs must be balanced against taxpayers' ability to pay for them. Also, school employees must be compensated fairly for the work they do."

"Since the decisions of board members touch each of our lives directly through our children and taxpayers, I believe we need concerned and conscientious people on the board to make balanced and fair-minded decisions. I have tried to serve in this manner."

ROBERT MAXWELL

Robert Maxwell, 40, of 2533 Westmoreland Drive is seeking another term on the Granite City School Board in the upcoming election. He is one of six candidates for these four-year terms.

General supervisor of training and development at the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp. for more than five years, he cites his experience there and in teaching and educational administration as qualifications for school board service.

He has just been promoted at Granite City Steel to supervisor of employment.

Maxwell was the director of vocational education in the local school district for two and one-half years prior to joining Granite City Steel.

Before advancing in August 1975 to the vocational director position, he was assistant principal of the Junior High School for four years.

Maxwell was president of the Granite City Rotary Club during the 1981-82 year. He is now active in arranging a program for foreign study for school students leaving and coming to Granite City.

His late father, Finley Maxwell, taught here for 37 years.

Maxwell is a 1961 graduate of Granite City High School and received a bachelor of science degree in vocational education from the University of Wisconsin-Stout.

He obtained his master's degree in education at Colorado State University, where he served as an educational administrator.

"Our children's education and educational experiences are my first priority," Maxwell states. "I am for quality education for the children of this district, our school district."

He and his wife, Jean, are the parents of a son, David, who is currently a student at Granite City High School.

Initially elected to the Board of Education in April 1980, he served one year as secretary of the board.

Maxwell led all candidates in the 1980 School District nine voting.

Maxwell was elected to the board fairly for the work they do.

"Since the decisions of board members touch each of our lives directly through our children and taxpayers, I believe we need concerned and conscientious people on the board to make balanced and fair-minded decisions. I have tried to serve in this manner."

DONALD GARGAC

Donald L. Gargac, 43, of 4566 Edwardsville Drive is seeking a four-year term on the Granite City School Board. The election is set for Tuesday, Nov. 8.

A lifelong resident of the local community, Gargac is employed by the U.S. Defense Mapping Agency Aerospace Center, St. Louis, where he is chief of the maintenance support branch, responsible for maintaining scientific computer systems. He has been with the agency since 1970.

He is in his second year as president of the Old Six Mile Historical Society.

Gargac and his wife, the former Mary Ann Mikulas, have two daughters who attend Granite City schools. Donna Marie, 13, is in the eighth grade at Grigsby Junior High School; Anne, six, is a second grader at Wilson School.

He served in the Navy for four years, 1963-67, and is a member of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

He has been active in Parent-Teacher Association programs for nine years, including the Stallings, Lake and Wilson schools, and has served as a delegate to the Granite City Area Council of PTA's for four years.

The candidate was Lake PTA treasurer for two years and presently is the Wilson PTA president.

Gargac told the Press-Record, "I have regularly attended school board meetings for the last five years. My continued interest in our school district's operation is my concern for our children."

"I believe that our children are our greatest responsibility, and we should not neglect dedicating this resource. We must provide the best education possible with the money available."

"We need to insure that we get the most worth in education for every taxpayer dollar so that we do not place an undue burden on the taxpayer."

"We must balance the needs of both the children and the taxpayer, but we must not neglect the fact that our children are the future of this community."

"I think it is time that our board and administrators stop running the state and federal governments for this district's indebtedness and assume the responsibility for our own spending."

"The state has traditionally underfunded programs by a consistent percentage. We must continue to spend money we know we will never receive. Other districts have realized this and have scaled down their expenditures."

"I would like to encourage more interest in our school district's operation by parents and taxpayers. Our schools need their input and their support."

"If elected, I will be a 'full-time' school board member, trying to do all I can to resolve the problems of this district."

Gargac has also said he believes the school system "should give a good, sound, quality education and equip students to cope with life as adults, instead of catering to stop-gap state and federal funding needs."

He has advocated better planning, more efficient management, elimination of overcrowding at schools, adoption of a workable local plan for competency testing to prevent state or federally controlled testing, restructuring of the citizens' committee to include individual PTA units or formation of a citizens' advisory council—and increasing the role of the public at board meetings by allowing time for citizen comments.

Gargac also ran for the school board in 1980 and 1981.

KENNETH DAVIS

Kenneth R. Davis, No. 53 Shirwin Drive, a resident of the Arlington Heights subdivision in the unincorporated area of Granite City School District Nine, is one of six candidates for three four-year terms on the Board of Education Nov. 8.

A lifelong resident of the community, he is a partner of Search Source Inc., a nationwide engineering and management consulting firm.

Davis and his wife, the former Janet Wood, have two children. Kenneth Jr., 20, is a sophomore at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Chad, 14, is a freshman at Granite City High School.

The candidate graduated from Granite City High School and attended Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

His business career has spanned 20 years, all concentrated in the employment industry. He began as a sales counselor and advanced to managerial duties.

Davis told the Press-Record he believes the major issues of the campaign are economics, quality education and educators, and the continuation of our district to remain free.

He said "Fiscal and financial stability are necessary in order to keep local control and avoid busing, bankruptcy."

"These issues can be dealt with only by qualified, experienced and creative people with the foresight and dedication to see to it that these educational needs are satisfied to the utmost."

"My 20 years of business ownership and management experience will be applied to assist with these urgent problems."

Davis said he also intends to publish a quarterly educational materials and seminars, a practice he began upon deciding to seek to become an effective participant on the school board.

"His goal in such study is to 'more thoroughly understand, evaluate and implement district policy.'"

DISCARD STOLEN PURSE IN ALLEY
Seeing two youths run and then drop a purse in an alley, an alert citizen called police during the weekend and the youths, a man and a woman, were taken into custody shortly afterward at 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

The purse belonged to Shirley Wehrmeyer of Belleville, who said she was visiting at a home in the 2100 block of Delmar and left her purse on a porch for a few minutes. When she returned outside, it was gone, she told police.

The purse was recovered in the alley at the rear of the Granite City Township Building. The youths were released to their parents on notice to appear for a court hearing.

DAVID PARTNEY

David E. Partney, 39, a member of the Granite City School Board since being elected in April 1979, is running Nov. 8 for a second board term.

He is one of six persons seeking three four-year positions on the seven-member board.

Vice-president of Granite Sheet Metal Works, he also is the proprietor along with his wife, Janet, of Strawberry Hill, an ice cream parlor on Pontoon Road.

They reside at 2373 Shirwin Drive, Nameoki Township, with their children, Douglas, David and Denise.

Born in Granite City, Partney is a lifelong local resident. He is one of the sons of the late Mayor Donald Partney, who was the city's chief executive from 1965 to 1973.

David Partney graduated from Granite City High School and majored in business administration at Southern Illinois University.

He has served as president of the Tri-Cities Area Red Cross Chapter and of Granite City Jaycees.

Active in Masonic Lodge 877, the Ainal Temple Shrine Club, Scottish Rite Bodies of Southern Illinois and the Low Twelve Club, he also has been a member of Granite City Moose Lodge 272 and Teamsters 474.

He has served as construction division chairman of the Tri-Cities Area United Way fund drive.

Partney was vice-president of the Granite City Crippled Children's Association, a life member of the Order of DeMolay, a board member of the Southern Illinois Industrial Association and Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the Jaycee rodeo and a Granite City homeowner.

His memberships have included the Granite City Rotary Club, Society of Iron and Steel Engineers, Hospice of Madison County, United Church of Christ, PTA units, Sheet Metal Local 268 Apprenticeship Committee, Granite City Humane Board.

Also, the City Animal Shelter Committee, Tri-City Sheet Metal Contractors Association, St. John United Church of Christ, American Legion Post 113 and Amvets Post 24.

Partney said he was serving the community on the Board of Education in a specified course.

Rural-urban residency factor in Nov. 8 voting

Voters of Granite City Community Unit School District Nine will elect five members of the Board of Education in voting on Tuesday, Nov. 8. Biographies of the 11 candidates are given, in the ballot order, on these two pages.

On the surface, voters' task is simple. They are to select any three of the six candidates for four-year board terms. And they are to choose any two of the five seeking two-year terms.

A slightly complicating factor is that at least two of the five winners must reside in unincorporated (rural areas) of the school district, regardless of the actual vote totals.

Interestingly, three candidates live in the same block of Westmoreland Drive, of whom two reside in the rural area and one in the City of Granite City.

The quintet competing for "short" terms this fall consists of one rural resident, Ruth D. Lahr, and four urban or city candidates—Donald W. Stucke, Robert "Bob" Braundmeier, George E. Moore Sr. and Alan R. Crider.

The sextet running for "long" terms is composed of one city candidate, E. Dewey Melton, and five rural residents—Kelly Hogan, Robert F. "Bob" Maxwell, Donald L. Gargac, Kenneth R. Davis and David Partney.

This much is known: there will be a trio of four-year victors and a pair of two-year winners.

Also known: incumbent board members seeking re-election are Melton, Maxwell, Partney, Stucke and Moore; non-members running for election are Hogan, Gargac, Davis, Braundmeier, Crider and Mrs. Lahr.

What isn't known at this stage is who will win. In addition to the question of who will run strongest in the ballot tabulations, residency is at least a theoretical factor in determining the outcome, but apparently will not be a major practical consideration this year.

There is no limit on the number of rural individuals who can serve on the seven-member board. There is a limit of five city residents who may serve on the board at any one time.

Since holdover members Monroe Worthen and Thomas Moskowsky live in the city, the five elected Nov. 8 could include two to five rural residents and anywhere from three to zero city dwellers.

All 11 candidates were considered in their entirety, there could be a problem for city candidates, since at least two will have to lose no matter how many votes the five urbanites receive.

But the 11 will not be considered in their entirety. Two (at a minimum) or three (at a maximum) Granite Cityans must lose out in the two-year voting.

This means that the lone city resident seeking a four-year term, Dewey Melton, could not be eliminated by residency, but only by votes.

What if unspecified numbers of rural and city write-in candidates were to run strongly? It could become confusing, but the numerical limits outlined would still apply.

1981 for the position of Nameoki Township assessor and in 1982 for the district position on the Madison County Board.

In prior years, he was a candidate for state representative in 1970 and 1974, and the school board in 1978.

Regarding himself as a fiscal watchdog on the school board, Partney frequently has cast a dissenting vote on matters coming before the board. A frequent saying of his has been that "fat can be trimmed without hurting the educational process."

He advocates a smaller administrative staff, thinks some of the present administrators should be terminated, favors changes in the present board membership and says the board should not have rescinded its 10 percent pay reduction for administrators.

Partney initially scanned utility bill lists for what he considered excessive school expenditures. At the meeting, plans were made for a fund-raising event later held to aid some of the other board members' campaign treasuries.

Although not present, he was able to disclose details of a campaign meeting this evening. At that meeting, plans were made for a fund-raising event later held to aid some of the other board members' campaign treasuries.

Partney said he was serving the community on the Board of Education in a specified course.

PUT ON PROBATION
Charles H. Fremer, 27, of 1719 Cleveland Blvd. was arrested there Thursday on a warrant alleging property damage the previous day at 2143 Delmar Ave. Appearing before Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand on Thursday afternoon, he was assessed $25 costs, placed on a year's probation and ordered to enroll in a specified course.

DONALD STUCKE

Granite City School Board President Donald Stucke, a lifelong Quad City man born in Mitchell, is seeking a two-year term on the board in the November election.

Stucke, 60, was appointed to the board in August 1967 and was elected to three-year terms in 1968-71-74-77-80.

He served as board president from April 1978 to April 1980 after first holding the presidency in 1973-74. His current service as president began in 1982.

He also has served as treasurer and secretary, including a term as secretary in 1981.

A graduate of Granite City schools, he is married to Mrs. Cecelia Stucke and is the father of three daughters, Mrs. Joyce E. Helrich, Granite City; Mrs. Janice L. Hamilton, Glen Carbon; and Mrs. Joyce E. Helrich, Granite City. He has eight grandchildren.

A tool designer at Carter Carburetor Co. in St. Louis when he became a board member, he joined the Prudential Insurance Co. sales staff in August 1980 and is still active with Prudential.

His memberships include the Amvets and Elks, and he has served as delegate and vice-chairman of the Large District Council of the Illinois Association of School Boards as well as a member of the IASB board of directors.

Stucke told the Press-Record, "While I believe the reductions in staff, school closings and existing deficit should be major campaign issues, I also believe that the Board of Education upon recognizing the deficit should take deliberate and necessary steps to alleviate the conditions."

"We still have deficit spending despite our cost reductions, but there is no board-facets with our particular problem—that could turn the financial picture around in the immediate future. It will take time."

"We recognize that our employees have agreed to wage freezes and have assumed heavier workloads. We appreciate this, and we also appreciate the people's cooperation in accepting the changes that were needed."

"My goal is for our district to again be sound financially," without further cost reduction measures, and to maintain quality education for every child in our community."

"I will work diligently toward this goal and I believe my extensive experience and sincere dedication will be of value in meeting the challenges ahead," Stucke concluded.

BOB BRAUNDEMEIER

Robert R. "Bob" Braundmeier, 44, of 2228 Nevada Ave. is one of five candidates for two two-year positions on the Granite City Board of Education Nov. 8.

Mr. Braundmeier, a postal service letter carrier, he graduated from Granite City High School in 1967 and attended night mathematics classes at the SIU center in Alton for two years.

He also took courses in traffic management for the trucking industry and studied sign language at SIUE.

Braundmeier did drafting work for a civil engineering firm as part of the county governmental mapping program in 1967-68.

He was a rate clerk, dispatcher and dock foreman until 1967, at which time he joined the Postal Service.

Born in Granite City, he moved with his family to St. Louis, returning here in 1950.

A member of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ for more than 30 years, Braundmeier served on the church council-four years, including one year as council president. He is a past handball club member and has been active in church.

"I have the distinction of having placed second in the hog call contest at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield for the last four years," he comments.

"My hobbies are gardening, country music, photography, riding horses, learning computers and doing things with my family." He and his wife, Carol, have two sons, Kevin, 22, and Kevin, 11.

Braundmeier served in the Army Reserve from 1958 to 1964. A former assistant coachmaster and assistant bus master, he received the District Award of Merit in 1962 from the Unihav Boy Scout District.

He has been a Prather Parent-Teacher Association delegate to the Granite City Area Council of PTAs and the Area Council delegate to the Citizens Advisory Committee of the school at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield for the last four years, he comments.

GEORGE MOORE

George E. Moore Sr., 61, of 3813 Village Lane is seeking re-election to the Granite City School Board. He is on the ballot for a two-year term Nov. 8.

A state director-at-large of the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB), Moore has served as board president and school treasurer of District Nine. A member of the board for the past 18½ years, he currently is the secretary.

Commenting on the 1983 campaign, Moore says, "In the face of ever-changing needs of society, economic difficulties, and concerns for the quality of public education, it would appear that the taxpayer would insist that governance of public schools be in the hands of persons of proven dedication and integrity."

"The issue of this campaign is who can best provide the leadership necessary for maintaining superior education for our children and youth."

Moore was appointed in 1977 by the Illinois Board of Higher Education to its 12-member Commission on Educational Television.

Born in Centralia, he attended public schools in Carlinville. After graduation, he completed special studies at Southern Illinois, Purdue, and Washington universities. He moved to Granite City in 1943.

Moore served with the U.S. Army in World War II and during the Korean war. He retired from the Granite City Army Depot in 1971 after 25 years of civil service which included major supervisory and management positions.

He has served on the Little White House Conference, Education, the Title I Citizens' Advisory Council, the Citizens' Education Board, an Area Vocational Board and the school district's faculty negotiating committee. He also has served as a special consultant to the state superintendent of schools.

Moore has been active in National School Board Association summer institutes and in workshops and seminars throughout the state for school board members and school personnel.

His honors include life membership in the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers and a citation by the Gateway East Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa as a layman making significant contributions to public education.

A director of the School Management Foundation of Illinois, he is a trustee of the Central Workman's Compensation Trust for Illinois Public Schools and a consultant on public school governance throughout Illinois and for the NSBA.

Moore has served as chairman of the Southwestern Metropolitan Citizens Advisory Council to the State Board of Education and has been a member of the state superintendent's steering committee.

Alan R. Crider, 34, is among those campaigning for a two-year position on the Granite City Board of Education in balloting Nov. 8. There are five candidates for two such posts.

A resident of 4024 Stearns Ave., he is a junior high school teacher in St. Louis County.

A former administrator in School District Nine, Crider taught elementary, junior high and senior high classes in Granite City at various times.

Employed by District Nine from 1970 to 1977, he advanced to the duties of director of the instruction of gifted and talented pupils.

Crider moved to Texas and worked from 1977 to 1979 as a teacher in the Humble, Tex., independent school district.

He moved back to Granite City in 1979, at which time he accepted employment as a teacher of English and of American studies at a junior high school in the Clayton district.

In January and February 1983, he led an extensive study tour of Africa by young American businessmen.

Crider received a bachelor of science degree in English and history from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1970 and a master of science degree in English and history from the same university in 1972.

He and his wife, Beverly, are the parents of two sons, Matthew and Timothy, four years old.

Crider cites his experience in education and business as enabling him to serve effectively on the board. While coordinating the gifted program here, he initiated a team approach that is still utilized.

School issues that he is discussing include emphasis on teaching excellence and on the solving of financial concerns facing the district.

Crider was a candidate for the board in November 1981.

RUTH LAHR

Ruth D. Lahr, of 330 Lenox Ave., Mitchell, who retired from the Granite City school district this year, is a candidate Nov. 8 for a two-year term on the Board of Education.

Noting that it has been many years since there was a woman on the board, and that she is the only woman in District Nine, she believes that voters should give her qualifications serious consideration.

She regards the present school system as "excellent."

She is married to Guy M. Lahr Jr. and both she and her husband retired from the school district in June, Lahr as a teacher and his wife as a director of the Title I (now Chapter I) federal education program in which English is taught to foreign young people studying here.

Their son is Guy M. Lahr III, an attorney in St. Louis. Their daughter is Almeda Lahr-Well, Ph.D., director of a Kirkwood school district program in which English is taught to foreign young people studying here.

There are five grandchildren.

The candidate cites "36 years of successful teaching and administrative experience in Illinois public schools."

She holds a bachelor degree in education from McKendree College, Lebanon, and a master degree in education from the University of Illinois. Her diploma is certified in guidance and counseling from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Mrs. Lahr is listed in Who's Who in America as a child development specialist. She has been recognized by the SIU chapter of Phi Delta Kappa for distinguished service to education.

She taught the first eight grades in a one-room rural school, 1946-51, and in District Nine she was an elementary teacher, 1952-69, and a reading specialist, 1959-69.

Mrs. Lahr served as Title I director here in 1968-69 and as school improvement director of reading and English in Illinois, 1968-71.

She resumed her Title I duties here in 1971-83. The candidate comments, "I retired from the Granite City school district in June 1983 and believe that my educational background and experience would be an asset to the Board of Education."

DAV members to attend membership seminar

Andrew Gilchoff, commander of Quad-Cities Chapter 53, Disabled American Veterans, reported at the October meeting that the Department of Illinois, DAV has requested that the membership committee of Chapter 53 participate in a membership seminar to be held the latter part of November in Chicago.

The purpose of the seminar is to co-ordinate and teach new techniques in recruiting new members. The August 31st membership report ranked Illinois in 17th place, last in Division II at 37.3 percent of quota. Chapter 53 has set a goal of 500 members by 1985 and an increase of approximately 25 percent above the membership of 397 on June 30. National Headquarters has set a goal of 1,000,000 members nationally by 1985.

The DAV will participate again in a Veterans Day ceremony at City Hall. AMVETS Post 451 is the co-ordinator of the event. Gilchoff urged that as many members as possible should attend this affair on Nov. 11.

He reported that Charles Joeckel has been appointed National Director of Service by National Headquarters replacing Norman B. (Gaby) Harthorn who recently retired.

Larry Lockhart announced that Eldon Curtright is coming to Jefferson Barracks VA Hospital. Irl Lungwitz and Robert Kennerly have been released.

Receiving a report from a Madison resident that a vehicle was stolen from the sidewalk in the 2200 block of Iowa Street, officers found Christie Evans, 32, of 2100 Kirkpatrick Homes, at that location with a bicycle on top of her.

Mrs. Evans was in a dazed condition, but was conscious, reports said. She had sustained severe facial injuries, it was noted, including a deep gash over her left eye and an abrasion to her upper lip. She also was missing a front tooth.

EMT (emergency medical technician) personnel at the scene and was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. She was not immediately able to explain what had occurred, reports said.

She taught the first eight grades in a one-room rural school, 1946-51, and in District Nine she was an elementary teacher, 1952-69, and a reading specialist, 1959-69.

Mrs. Lahr served as Title I director here in 1968-69 and as school improvement director of reading and English in Illinois, 1968-71.

She resumed her Title I duties here in 1971-83. The candidate comments, "I retired from the Granite City school district in June 1983 and believe that my educational background and experience would be an asset to the Board of Education."

"My number one priority is, and always has been, quality education for the students of Granite City."

She holds a bachelor degree in education from McKendree College, Lebanon, and a master degree in education from the University of Illinois. Her diploma is certified in guidance and counseling from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Book driver on 3 charges

After getting a report from Madison police about a vehicle traveling north on Madison Avenue, Granite City officers saw the auto at Nameki Road and Madison Avenue and halted the driver, Nels K. Provench, 28, of 1338 Norwood Drive, in Bellemore Village Shopping Center last week.

Reports noted that an open can of beer was on the front floorboard of the car and alleged the driver needed support. He agreed to take a breathalyzer test, which was administered by Madison Officer William Weidner.

Provench was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, improper use of a vehicle and illegal transportation of alcohol. He was released after posting a $102 cash bond.

Comanches outmuscle Warrior gridders; win 22-6

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — The 15-year drought in Cahokia is over.

It's been 15 years since the Comanche football team has had a winning season. Most of this year's Comanche squad were two or three years old — still in diapers — when Cahokia High School sported a winning football team.

But Friday night in the midst of an on-off misting drizzling rain, the matured Comanches put an end to that 15-year drought. The Comanches guaranteed themselves a winning season with a 22-6 victory over Granite City. The 3-2 Comanches, have just two games remaining this season, one against Gateway East Conference rival Edwardsville and the other against St. Charles.

"It's been long in coming," said Comanche football Coach Lawrence Taylor after the game.

Taylor's Comanches beat the Warriors, now 2-4, for two reasons — the Comanche's superiority on the line and its ability to get outside and run around the Warrior defense.

"We're trying some new things this year," Taylor said. "We've increased our weight program — with the free weights — and it seems to be helping our linemen. Basically, they're a stronger line than we've had in the past," Taylor said. The Comanche coach is also blessed with virtually an "all-star" line.

"There's no substitution for seniors. After last year's season they were determined to be winners this year," Taylor said. Last year's Cahokia squad won just a single game last year.

Granite City High School Coach Tom Wyrostek concurred with Taylor's statement on seniors. "There's no question about it. Their linemen, mostly seniors, just outmuscled and outthrusted us."

Wyrostek referred specifically to Cahokia's number 30, noseguard Edward Williams. "He (Williams) gave us fits all night. Whenever we tried to pass he was always there pressuring (Warrior quarterback Cole) Shane's passes."

Wyrostek couldn't have summed it up better.

The Warriors' forte this season has been its passing. When Cole has time to throw, the Warriors win. Friday night the Warriors didn't have time to pass. Consequently, they didn't score — not until the final minute of the game.

With one minute remaining in the game, on a second and 25 situation on the Warriors own 35 yard line, Cole found Kurt Hylla wide open in the Comanche secondary. Hylla dashed in the endzone for the Warrior's only TD.

The conciliatory touchdown pass covered 65 yards and was by far the Warriors best offensive play of the ballgame. The two-point conversion pass to tight end Terry Rujawitz fell incomplete.

From the opening minute of the game, the Comanches looked strong. Aided by a Warrior pass interference penalty, the Comanches took their opening possession 69 yards in 17 plays for a touchdown. Along the way the Comanches picked up five of their 15 total first downs.

The Comanches score came at the 4:36 mark of the first quarter as junior running back Alonzo Washington dashed in from five yards out. Cahokia went on top 8-0 as Washington successfully carried around the right side for the two-point conversion.

By the time the Comanches scored, Washington had already established himself as a focal point of the Warrior defense. By the evening's end the Comanche speedster carried 26 times for 147 yards.

For the remainder of the first half neither team threatened the Warriors were stymied by the Comanche defense, and the Comanches were victims of their own mistakes.

Midway through the second quarter, on a third and seven situation, the Warriors picked up their first first down. Cole successfully passed to Rujawitz over the middle to the Comanches' 40 yard line.

On the very next play, the Warriors picked up a first down. Cole went to the air again, this time hitting a 12-yard pass to Hylla. Hylla, incidentally, was the Warriors' leading receiver, catching four passes for 81 yards.

Following a pitch out to Warrior running back James Moad which was good for five yards, Cole again went to the air. His target again was Hylla.

On third and seven, Cole sought Hylla in the endzone. The pass was underthrown and Cahokia's defensive back Heath Smith tipped the pass away.

Despite the apparent pending fourth down situation, the Warriors were given another chance. On the pass play to Hylla, Cahokia was tagged with a personal foul, giving the Warriors a first down.

Granite City was unable to capitalize on the penalty, however, and was forced to attempt a field goal. The field goal, a 35-yard attempt, was wide left.

The drive was the Warriors best of the game and it wasn't until the fourth quarter, when they eventually scored, that their offense was more productive.

Fortunately for the Warriors, its defense responded to its offense's shortcomings. The Warriors stopped the Comanches on the second series of the ensuing possession.

On fourth and four at Granite City's 45 yard line, Comanche quarterback Randy Batson pitched to Washington. The play which had worked several times before didn't this time. Rujawitz stopped Washington for no gain.

After a single Warrior offensive series, Granite City's defense found itself once again on the field. On Cahokia's first play from scrimmage, Batson attempted to pass to junior running back Brian Bradley.

Hylla, defending Bradley, moved in front of the Comanche receiver to pull down the interception and then returned it 12 yards.

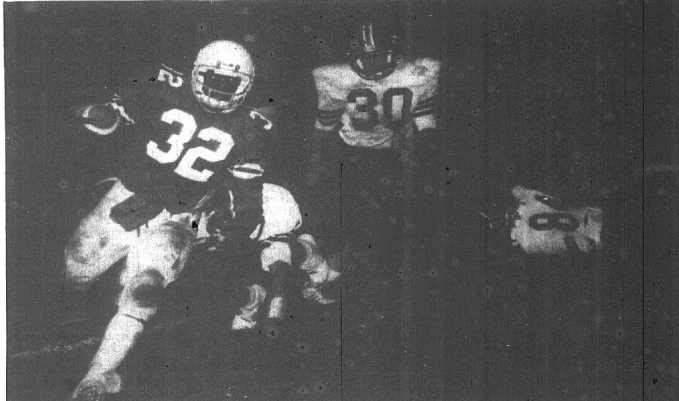

With less than a minute remaining in the half, Granite City went to the air, desperately trying to score before the half expired.

The Warriors managed one completion to Tom Adamitis before the half expired, but the endzone was still a distant 40 yards away.

After halftime, the refreshed Comanches went right to work.

Pomach's senior guard Brian Guthrie sacked Cole on a third and eighth situation. Granite City's ensuing punt, from their own 13 yard line, gave the Comanches excellent field position on the Granite City 40 yard line.

It took Cahokia seven offensive plays to cover the forty yards. At 6:19, Wash-

As mentioned, the Warriors put six points on the board in the waning moments of the fourth quarter. Granite City gained possession when the Warriors recovered a Comanche fumble.

Adamitis' reception of Cole's pass for 33 yards set up the 65-yard touchdown reception to Hylla.

The Warriors will host Northwest, Mo., High this Friday at Memorial Stadium. Homecoming. It's Granite City's final home game of the season.

Dupo options its way around Trojans; wins 6-0

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

DUPO. In football, Mother Nature can be the greatest equalizer of all. No matter how well you can pass or how well you can run, rain almost always slows things down. A lesser team can upset a superior team under such conditions.

Dupo, the only undefeated small school football team in Metro-East this season, appeared to be on the same level as the Madison Trojans in a nonconference game in Dupo Friday. The rain took away Dupo's bread-and-butter, the passing game.

However, Dupo quarterback Jim Jarvis wasn't affected. Instead of passing, he ran the option play to near perfection, and the option paid off in a 6-0 victory for Dupo. The Tigers are now 7-0 for the season and could clinch a playoff berth next week against Freeburg.

"The weather was an equalizer tonight," Dupo Coach Gary Maus said. "It would have been different on a dry field, but that's the way it goes."

Dupo dominated the game as far as possession time and yardage was concerned. The Tigers moved the ball 209 yards compared to Madison's 131 yards and kept Madison in poor field condition all night. The Trojans only reached the 50-yard line once in the game.

Madison football coach Don Smith usually wouldn't accept a performance such as that, but Smith knew Dupo was definitely the better team of the two.

"I love to win and I hate to lose," Smith said. "I can accept a loss. I can't accept a team like Dupo because they are better than we are. For the most part, we gave them a good effort."

The only thing the Trojans couldn't stop was the option play. Usually, Jarvis has three alternatives with the option: pass, hand the ball off for a reverse or run the ball himself.

Jarvis controlled the ball much of the time, but the exception to the rule paid off for Dupo in the third quarter.

Madison's defense keyed on fullback Jim Hoge for much of the game. Hoge managed to drag through the mud and the Trojan defense for 98 yards, but because of the concentration of Hoge, the option was more effective.

Dupo's 11-play, 54-yard scoring drive consisted of four option plays. On three of those, Jarvis moved the ball 20 yards. On the fourth option on the Trojan 20-yard line, Jarvis appeared to be a freshman running back Scott Tieman instead. Tieman ran up the middle for a 20-yard touchdown.

"They ran the option well and they read our defense perfectly. We had a very defensive end in there, and they were taking advantage of it, scampering for a few yards here and there," Smith said.

"He (Jarvis) kept running it himself, and we were prepared for it. Instead, he ran a reverse and the back caught us asleep up the middle," Smith said.

Dupo tried to pass earlier in the game, but the Tigers couldn't move the ball in the air very well. In fact, Dupo picked up only two yards passing.

"We wanted to pass while the ball and our hands were still dry, but we weren't doing that well, so by the second quarter, we went to the option," Maurer said.

After the touchdown, Dupo had one more serious drive. The Tigers moved the ball from midfield to the Trojan 3-yard line, but the Trojans stopped that drive.

On the next Madison series, the Trojans were forced to punt from their 11. Madison punter Pat Wilson appeared to be roughed on the punt, the officials didn't call it to the ire of Smith and his staff.

"If they would have made the call, we could have had a drive going, and we might have scored," Smith said.

Dupo moved the ball down to the Madison 11, but the Tigers lost the ball on a fumble. Madison couldn't move the ball any further than its own 39-yard line on the final drive.

In all, Dupo had the ball inside the Madison 20-yard line four times but scored only once. However, Madison started six of its eight series inside its own 25-yard line. The two times Madison started in better field position were on the opening kickoffs in the first and second halves.

"We would have liked to score when we had the ball deep, but we keep them deep in their own territory and kept them from doing anything on offense. It really didn't hurt us that we didn't score," Maurer said.

Smith thought perhaps the momentum Dupo had could have helped. The week before, Dupo edged Assumption 14-13 and broke the Pioneers' win streak.

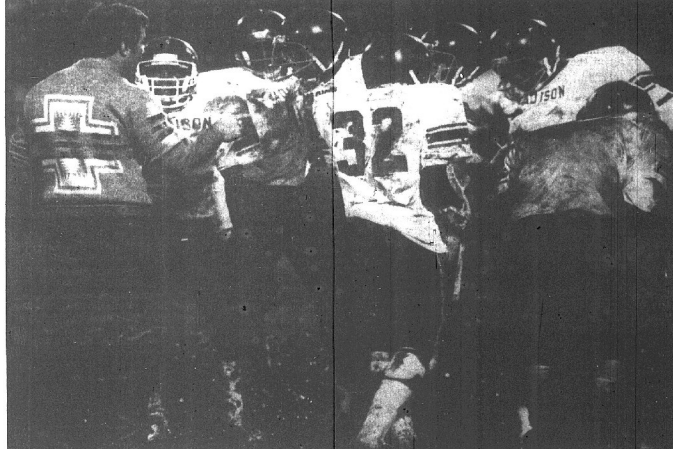

"Dupo came in here 6-6 and we came in 2-4, and I think that can make a difference in a close game like this. We have come a long ways this season and we're not giving up like we did in the past," Smith said.

"It's going to take a few years to get the program we want here, but we'll get the support from the school and the people in Madison, we can make this a good football program," Smith said.

Madison closes the season at home against Red Bud next Friday. Game time is 7:30 p.m. It's also the Trojan's homecoming.

1. Schluto was the top seed of the tournament.

Highland's Meredith Heideman, the second seed of the tournament, defeated the Warriors' Angela Pinkston 6-0, 6-3.

"Angela played her best tennis of the year here. She had a very tough opponent, and she did pretty well," Granite City Coach Dick Harmon said.

The Warriors' Dina Lombardi and Sierrita Ousley, who were the eighth-seeded doubles team in the tournament, were upset by Jodie Pariquea and Kelly Clendenny 6-1, 6-4 in a second round match. Lombardi and Ousley received a first round bye.

The other Granite City doubles team, Dawn Schwartz and Maria Parra, defeated Rhonda Mouser and Cheryl Edmunds of Civic Memorial 7-6, 6-1 in a first round match.

However, Ashley Hill and Beth Craig of Wood River eliminated Schwartz and Parra with a 6-1, 6-1 victory.

"The players did very well and, for the most part, did what we wanted," Harmon said. "I was a little disappointed in the first doubles team, but every player did better than they did earlier in the season."

"I thought Angela had her best match of the year. She had a very tough opponent, but she did well," Harmon said.

The Madison doubles team of Alisha Roberts and Tosha Carter lost to Gabby Goodbreke and Beth Delan of Civic Memorial 7-5, 6-3 in a first round match. Lori Prothro was scheduled to play in the tournament but defaulted her first round match with Beth Fischer of Collinsville.

None of the Granite City or the Madison girls can advance to the state finals this weekend at Mt. Prospect High School.

Regional Action Tuesday

Warriors, Trojanettes, Red Deviltes begin post season

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

Three area high school volleyball teams will be putting their regular season records behind them this week and starting a whole new season — a season where past records make no difference.

Granite City, Venice and Madison High School's volleyball teams will begin their quest for a berth in the state tournament Tuesday, with each taking part in a different regional tournament.

The winners of each regional will advance to a sectional tournament, then to a super-sectional and from there on to the state tournament. This year the state tournament will be held Nov. 10-12 at the Prairie Capital Convention Center in Springfield.

The Granite City Warriors will be taking part in their own regional tournament to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, October 25-26, with the first game both nights beginning at 7 p.m.

The first game of the Granite City Regional will match first seeded East St. Louis Senior against fourth seeded Cahokia.

The second match will put third seeded Granite City against second seeded East St. Louis Lincoln. The Warriors defeated Lincoln earlier in the season at the Collinsville Invitational. However, this match-up took place after the seeding meeting. Since Lincoln had the better record at the time, they received the higher seed.

The winner of each match will advance to the Wednesday final.

The Warriors, with their record of 13-9, should fair well in the tournament.

"If the girls work hard and play well I think we can compete with any of the teams in the area," stated Coach Wilma Schulze.

"No one team has really dominated this year as they have in past years."

Coach Schulze also feels her team will have to play well to beat first round opponent Lincoln.

"This is the best Lincoln team I've seen in a long time. They have had taller teams in the past, but this is the most disciplined team I've seen them have," said Schulze.

The winner of the Granite City Regional will advance to the Belleville West Sectional tournament along with the winners of the Collinsville, Bethalto and Belleville East Regionals. The tournament will be held Nov. 13 with the winner advancing to the Nov. 5 super-sectional to be held in Collinsville. From their the winner will advance to the state tournament.

The Venice Red Deviltes will be traveling to Breesee for their Class A regional tournament.

The first game Tuesday will match top seeded, Breesee Mater Dei, against eighth seeded Lebanon. In the second match, fifth seeded Highland St. Paul will meet fourth ranked Trenton (Wescinn).

The Wednesday matches will put third seeded St. Jacob (Triad) up against sixth ranked East St. Louis Assumption. Seventh ranked Venice will meet second seeded Breesee Central in the second game.

Thursday, the winners of Tuesday night's matches will square off in the first game. The winners of Wednesday's matches will meet in the second game with the winners advancing to Saturday's final.

If Venice would win their regional, they would advance to the Nov. 13 Freeburg Sectional along with the winners of the Marissa, Sandoval, and Red Bud Regionals. This tournament is sure to include last year's Class A state champion, Freeburg.

Coach Annette Olendorf feels her team will fare well in the Regional tournament.

"If the girls want to, they can play with anybody. If they can keep their confidence level up and they don't let the little things get them down they will play well," stated Coach Olendorf.

Venice, whose record is now 8-8, finished the season with four straight wins.

"The girls played well against Dupo. They beat Livingston but didn't play as well against them," said Olendorf. "If we can play well we will have a good chance."

The Madison Trojanettes will also be beginning their eight-team regional Tuesday. They will travel to the Class A Staunton Regional.

In the first game on Tuesday, top-seeded Staunton will meet eighth ranked Lovejoy.

In the second match of the night, fifth seeded Metro-East Lutheran will meet fourth seeded Madison.

third seeded Alton (Marquette) against sixth ranked Worden and Seventh seeded Livingston against number two rated Bunker Hill.

The winners of the Tuesday matches will meet in the first match Thursday with the winners of the Wednesday matches meeting in the second game.

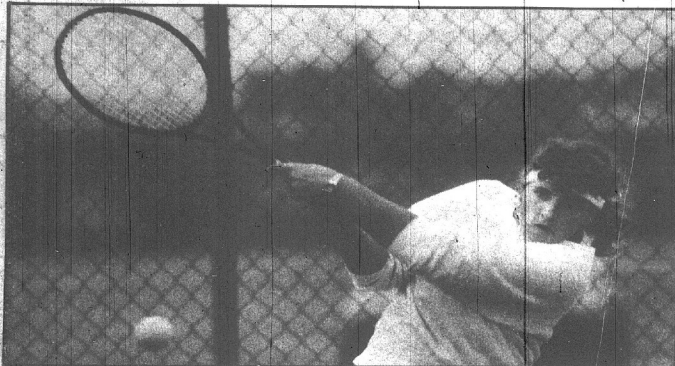

The tournament champion will advance to the Carlinville Sectional Nov. 13. From there the winner will move to the November 5th Super-Sectional at Petersburg (Porta).

Coach Carol Cole is confident her team will do well in the regional.

"Our team has never won a game in the regional. This year I think we have our best chance ever of winning," stated Coach Cole.

All of the area teams will have a long road to travel to reach the state final.

Granite City will be one of 239 schools entered in the Class AA state tournament series. Venice and Madison will be competing against 430 other Class A schools for a state final berth.

CONCENTRATION. Granite City's Sherril Ousley concentrates on a groundstroke as it travels to the opponent's side of the court in a doubles match of the Highland Girls Tennis Sectional tournament. Ousley and her partner Dina Lombardi lost to Jodie Pahra and Kelly Clendenny of Roxana 6-1, 6-4 and was eliminated from the tournament.

On Sunday
Cougars blank Chicago CircleBy AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE—It was a typical ragged soccer game between the Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the University of Illinois Chicago Circle eleven here Sunday afternoon and the host team won it going away, 4-0.

The game, which was shifted from the stadium pitch to a practice field north of the regular field because of rain-soaked and muddy surface, was marred by flagrant fouls on the part of the visitors from the Windy City.

The game was marred so much by fouls, its outcome was never in doubt almost from the start as SIUE was awarded three direct penalty kicks in the first half. The first penalty kick was raked up by the Cougars' Steve Gauvain at the 18:48 minute and, as mentioned, the game's outcome from then on was never in doubt.

SIUE coach, Bob Guetker, of course wanted the victory but going into his team's do-or-die game Friday night with St. Louis U. at St. Louis' Busch Stadium in the 12th annual Bronze Boot Classic. But, he would have much preferred that the Flames would have played a more conventional game in order to sharpen the Cougars for their major test against the high-flying Bills.

If the Cougars are to still have a remote chance to qualify for a "wild card" berth in the Midwest NCAA regional tournament, they must beat the Bills, and decisively, at that.

In other SIUE scoring Bills Stallings on a pass from Carl Hausman at 29:20 after Gauvain missed at second direct penalty kick; Das O'Keefe made it 3-0 SIUE on a pass from Bill Stallings and Steve Gauvain made it 4-0 on another direct penalty kick with less than six minutes remaining in the first half.

Braves,
Gators clash

The Coolidge Junior High School Braves' football team, still undefeated this year, will square off against cross-town rival the Grigsby Gators Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. at Memorial Stadium.

Tuesday's game, because of bad weather, has been rescheduled twice. It was originally scheduled to be played last Wednesday, Oct. 19.

Bar Assn. donates $5,000 to Land of Lincoln group

The Madison County Bar Association has voted to donate $5,000 to Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance. The Madison County Bar is a professional organization of the majority of the attorneys practicing in Madison County.

"The donation was made as part of the Madison County Bar's commitment to the principal of equal access to the legal system for everyone regardless of financial status. The Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Office handles clients that are unable to afford the services of a lawyer through conventional means," a bar spokesman said.

According to Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Director Joseph B. Bartylak, the donation will be used to fund Land of Lincoln's Alt Office. Because of reduction in funding for Land of Lincoln, the lawyer and one secretary were to be laid off Oct. 1. The Madison County Bar Association's donation will allow the secretary and lawyer to be retained for the present.

Land of Lincoln's Alt Office served approximately 2,000 clients last year. Land of Lincoln handles civil matters only. Individuals charged with crimes and unable to afford a lawyer are represented by the public defender's office.

Unemployment benefits increased by 14 weeks

Under a plan backed by U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) and passed last week by a House-Senate conference committee, unemployed workers in Illinois will receive 14 additional weeks of federal unemployment benefits.

House and Senate conferees meeting to iron out differences in bills to extend the federal government's Federal Supplemental Unemployment Compensation (FSUC) program agreed to provide 14 additional weeks of benefits to states with 18-month average insured unemployment rates (IURs) of at least 5.5 percent.

Currently, unemployed workers in Illinois receive 26 weeks of benefits from the state and 12 additional weeks from the federal government through the FSC program, which expired on Sept. 30th.

Under the administration's proposed FSC extension, Illinois would have dropped from 12 to 8 weeks.

During Senate consideration of the FSC extension, Percy offered an amendment which would have prevented the reduction in benefits to Illinois. The amendment was withdrawn after Percy received the assurance of Senate Finance Committee Chairman Bob Dole (R-Kan.) that Dole would push for acceptance of the plan in the conference.

In his opening remarks to the conference meeting today, Dole told him that the conferees had accepted the plan, adding, "We took care of Illinois."

"I am confident that we have turned the corner on high unemployment and are heading for a sustained recovery. However, this does not mean that we can turn our backs on those who are still out of work, and on those areas hardest hit by severe unemployment," said Dole.

During Senate considera-

Union to distribute leaflets at GC Steel to support worker

From noon to 1 p.m., Tuesday, informational leafletting will be conducted in front of Granite City Steel corporate headquarters at 20th and State Streets.

A leaflet will be distributed to the public outlining a series of events that have led to the refusal by Granite City Steel to return Freda Scott, recording secretary of the local union, to work after a plant injury and an extended period of layoff.

Possible discrimination against Mrs. Scott due to a Workmen's Compensation claim, her sex, and her status as an active union officer is being perpetuated by the company, the leaflet contends. If the employment is to be terminated within two weeks by Granite City Steel, the company is permitted to return her to work within this time.

Mrs. Scott will be present during the leafletting to answer questions.

Auto Club reminds motorists to ensure Halloween safety rules

When owls hoot their warning and black cats dart across your path, it's time to prepare for another Halloween. The AAA-Auto Club of Missouri wants to remind motorists to take extra precautions and help ensure the safety of all the would-be ghosts, goblins and witches who will be on the prowl in search of Halloween fun.

Because the young masqueraders will have fun, not safety on their minds, the Auto Club cautions drivers to be especially careful of youngsters who might dart across the street.

Parents should take steps to make sure their children can see where they are going, and can easily be seen by motorists. The safest time to trick-or-treat is while it is still light outside. If children must go out after dark, they should wear light-colored clothing, preferably outlined in reflective tape and carry a flashlight that can light their paths and warn oncoming motorists. Getting the trick-or-treaters to wear makeup, instead of masks that prohibit their visions, is another good idea.

Parents should accompany their children on the walk, or arrange for them in a group, with a clear understanding of which route they will take and when they will be expected home. Parents also should remind their youngsters to obey traffic signals and cross streets only at intersections.

Adults can contribute to a safe, happy Halloween by making sure their home's entrances and sidewalks are well lighted. The jack-o'-lantern's grin may be a bright one but it does little to fight the way for anxious trick-or-treaters.

Madison schools will host drug program

By PAT HAY LUTZ
for the Press-Record

Madison High School Principal Daniel Kostencki and Sue Bornstein of Operation Snowball informed board members that student interest and positive reactions prompted them to seek an alternative to Operation Snowball's previous practice of selecting only a few students to attend a weekend program away from home. "The student interest prompted us to do a program on our own," Kostencki said. "The students who have attended Operation Snowball programs in the past have said that it was a positive experience for them."

According to Miss Bornstein, the program will concentrate on two areas of education. Students will receive information on rational decision-making processes and will gain confidence in their own decision-making capabilities. They also will study interpersonal relations in small groups, thus enabling them to be non-judgmental when approached with a decision about drugs or alcohol.

"I feel that it will have a very positive impact on the kids," she said. "They go away with a good feeling about themselves and others."

Students who have previously attended Operation Snowball programs will be solicited as group leaders for the Dec. 3 program, and board officials will pick up the cost of the program, thereby enabling students to attend without having to pay an admission fee.

Another informational program on drug and alcohol abuse is scheduled for the general public at a town hall meeting at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 2 at Madison High School. The Chemical People will provide a presentation, to be aired on Channel 3, for the public during the meeting, and a discussion will be conducted after the presentation.

Board members agreed that church groups, youth groups and parochial school students be encouraged to attend the town meeting to view the presentation. In other business, school board officials agreed to participate in the Salvation Army 1983 "Tree of Lights" program by granting permission for Madison students to donate canned goods to the Salvation Army for distribution at Christmas. Madison High School Principal Daniel Kostencki also reported that plans are underway for homecoming-type events scheduled in conjunction with the last football game on Friday. Events scheduled include a parade

Dollar General buys P.N. Hirsch stores

The P. N. Hirsch stores in this area will be operating under new ownership in early November.

Dollar General Corporation will purchase from the present owner approximately 175 stores now operated by P. N. Hirsch & Co., division of Interco Incorporated.

These stores are in 11 midwestern and southern states. Dollar General Corporation is a major discount retailer which operates 92 Dollar General Stores in 22 states from headquarters in Scottsville, Ky.

"This is an exciting new opportunity for us, and for the customers of P. N. Hirsch here, because it combines the best features of a traditional department store with the obvious appeal of an organization which has a reputation for delivering exceptional value at low prices," Dollar General

President Cal Turner Jr. said. "We are committed to maintaining the high standards that customers of P. N. Hirsch expect and, in the months ahead, shoppers will begin to see changes which have made our Dollar General Stores so successful," Mr. Turner added.

Dollar General was founded as a family business by J. L. Turner and his son, Cal, more than 40 years ago.

Dollar General is recognized as the retailing industry leader in buying high-quality, irregular and clearance soft goods, which it sells at greatly reduced prices with a money-back guarantee.

At the beginning of 1977, Dollar General had 418 company-owned stores and annual sales of $16 million. By the close of 1983, the company will have nearly 1,200 stores and annual sales of well over $300 million.

Brewer advises residents worried about oil sticking to their vehicles or being tracked into their homes to take precautions. These include parking cars in alleys or on streets not slated for coating, and curbing youngsters from playing in streets for a few hours after the coatings are applied.

"Stay off the streets as much as possible," Brewer advised. "The streets to be oiled and chipped are listed in Thursday, Oct. 20, issue of the Press-Record."

The Tri-City area YMCA will host a special Halloween overnight party for children from 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 28, to 8 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 29. Boys and girls ages 6 through 12 are being invited.

There will be 80 openings available for children. Most sign up at least one day in advance. Reservations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis, at a cost of $4 a child.

Natalie Buster and her staff will supervise the event. The gymnasium, game room, racquetball area and pool area will be open for the evening.

A snack will be served during the evening and surprises will be given out. All boys and girls should wear Halloween costumes for the evening. There will be a costume contest. Prizes will be donated by Panera's Pizzeria, Hardee's and various churches.

Participants should bring a swimming suit, towel, swim cap, sleeping bag, pillow and pajamas. Parents will be expected to arrive at the YMCA to pick up their children by 8 a.m. Saturday morning.

A YMCA membership is not necessary to enroll. For further information, those interested may call the YMCA at 876-7200.

Edward D. Adams, 34, of 2025 Delmar Ave., was injured and taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 2:05 p.m. Friday after his station wagon was in a collision while heading south on Route 162, about one-eighth of a mile south of Nameoki Road.

The driver of the second vehicle involved also a station wagon southbound on Route 162, was Gary D. Aaron, 28, of 2024 Fourteenth St., who told police that another accident on the opposite side of the highway caused the power line to fall across the roadway, forcing him to stop. His vehicle was then struck from the rear, he said.

The vehicle in the original mishap was operated by Charles L. Wise, 41, of Rural Route One, Box 293. His truck was headed east on Route 203 when the steering mechanism failed and he struck a power pole, he told police.

Wise, who apparently was not injured, was cited for failing to have a safety sticker on the truck.

VAN DRIVER CHARGED DUI
Michael E. Copeland, 24, of 27a Lakewood Drive, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, failure to reduce speed and illegal transportation of alcohol at 3:40 a.m. Sunday at Nameoki and Johnson Roads.

The arrest followed an accident at Nameoki and Johnson Roads in which Copeland's van was involved with an auto operated by Patricia E. Tsui, 23, of St. Louis. Both vehicles were headed south on Nameoki Road.

A Styrofoam cup allegedly containing an alcoholic beverage was seen in Copeland's van. He agreed to submit to a breathalyzer test and was released upon posting a $100 cash bond and his driver's license.

Free hunting and fishing licenses to war disabled

David V. Hardwick, director of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, has announced that the new Hunting and Fishing Affidavits now are available which allow free hunting and fishing privileges to disabled veterans who are Illinois residents.

This affidavit is only for veterans who, according to the determination of the Veterans Administration as certified by the Department of Veterans' Affairs, are at least 10 percent disabled with service-connected disabilities or in receipt of a total disability VA pension.

The affidavit provides that veterans may hunt and fish (with hook and line) during those periods of the year it is lawful to do so without being required to have a license, on the condition that their respective disabilities do not prevent them from fishing or hunting in a manner which is safe to themselves and others.

The affidavit must be reissued annually with the expiration date being March 31 each year. Proper certification of receipt of benefits for disability from the Veterans Administration must be presented to the Department of Veterans' Affairs at the time of application.

Veterans qualifying for this privilege may obtain the necessary affidavit from their local Department of Veterans' Affairs office.

Infant CPR class is offered at SEMC

What should a parent do if suddenly his or her baby stopped breathing?

Each year thousands of infants, who die unexpectedly, might have been saved if one of their parents had had the necessary CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) training.

To aid in this endeavor, St. Elizabeth Medical Center, is offering a class entitled "Infant CPR" to all parents who currently have an infant in the home.

The class will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 7 p.m., in the prenatal classroom at McKinley School, 2200 Iowa.

"Infant CPR should be an important part of every parent's training," said Elizabeth Gramates, SEMC obstetrics supervisor.

"I hope every parent with an infant at home learns these techniques. It could mean the difference between life and death for their babies."

Free to area residents, the class will be taught by two Red Cross certified instructors.

For more information, parents may call St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 798-3043.

Cruse dinner moved to the township hall

A dinner in honor of Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse has been moved from the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to the Granite City Township Hall, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, due to information picketing by police at SIUE.

The event begins at 6 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 6. The John Formaszkewicz Band will provide dinner music.

All funds raised exceeding expenses will be donated to the United Way drive, according to Nick Petrillo, a member of the committee organizing the event. He stressed the event is not a fund raiser.

Education budget hearing tomorrow

Public hearings on the financial needs of elementary and secondary education for the 1984-85 fiscal year will be conducted tomorrow in Belleville and Nov. 18 in Chicago by the Illinois State Board of Education.

The Oct. 25 hearing will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. in the County Board conference room, 5th floor, St. Clair County Courthouse, Belleville.

On Nov. 18, the hearing will be conducted from 2 to 5 p.m. in the County Board assembly room (Room 569), County Building, 118 N. Clark St., Chicago.

The pre-budget hearings are held to provide public input into development of the budget that State Superintendent of Education Donald Gill will recommend to the board in January. Dr. Gill will chair the pre-budget hearings.

The board is seeking public testimony on such issues as priorities for allocating available state resources, equitable distribution of general state aid, alternative revenue sources, categorical grant funding levels, and the full state resource needs for local school districts.

"As in the past several years, forecasts regarding available state revenues for fiscal 1985 will be characterized by considerable uncertainty," Supt. Gill said.

"However, it is the intent of the board, regardless of the funding level in its final budget request, to make a strong public statement concerning the very real needs of schools and the state's responsibility to meet those needs."

To testify at the hearings, persons must place their names on a sign-up list that will be made available 30 minutes prior to the start of each hearing.

Oral testimony will be limited to five minutes. Written testimony of any length will be accepted. Individuals are asked to provide 10 copies of their testimony.

The hearings may send written testimony to the Assistant to the State Board of Education, 100 N. 1st St., Springfield 62777.
